Introduction

1. New Zealand Civil Aviation Rule Part 61 (CAR Part 61) makes provision for the Director of Civil Aviation (DCA) to recognise current flight crew licences which have been issued by the licensing authority of an ICAO member state. Subject to the holder meeting specific requirements, such qualifications may be accepted as a basis for the issue of a NZ flight crew licence or a short term NZ validation permit.

2. Reference to the appropriate requirements detailed in this information package; will provide guidance to overseas flight crew seeking the issue of a NZ validation permit or NZ flight crew licence.

3. The term ‘current’ when used in relation to overseas qualifications throughout the following text, means that at the time of presentation for recognition purposes, the holder of an overseas licence must meet all currency requirements laid down for the use of that document in the country of issue. This means that the licence holder must have completed a Biennial Flight Review (BFR) or operational equivalent in the country of issue and also hold appropriate unexpired medical certification, issued in that country.

Background information

- In order to determine that the appropriate recognition requirements are met, all overseas pilots who seek the issue of a NZ Commercial Pilot Licence (CPL) or Airline Transport Pilot Licence (ATPL) are required to have their flight experience and qualifications assessed. These assessments are carried out on behalf of the CAA by Aviation Services Ltd (ASL) and are completed in accordance with the appropriate requirements prescribed by CAA.
In addition, acting under delegation from the Director of Civil Aviation, ASL administer all NZ flight crew written examinations and initial issue flight tests for the CPL, flight instructor ratings and instrument ratings.

Overseas pilot licence holders who seek the issue of a NZ CPL or ATPL, should initially contact ASL at the following address:

Aviation Services Ltd.
PO Box 30343 Lower Hutt,
NEW ZEALAND
Telephone: +64- 4- 913 9812  Fax: +64-4-913 9816
Website: www.aviation.co.nz

For assessment purposes, any person seeking the issue of a NZ flight crew licence will be required to support each application for assessment by producing their pilot logbook(s), current overseas pilot licence, unexpired overseas medical certification and any other evidence that may assist in establishing the applicant’s qualifications and flight experience. Evidence of holding a flight radio telephone operator rating or equivalent will also be required.

Following completion of the assessment, each applicant who meets the eligibility requirements for recognition will be advised in writing as to what they must complete prior to making application for a NZ flight crew licence.

When all the appropriate requirements have been completed, each application for the issue of a NZ flight crew licence should be submitted to:

Civil Aviation Authority of New Zealand
PO Box 3555
Wellington 6140
NEW ZEALAND
Telephone: +64-4-560 9400  Fax: +64-4-569 2024

Short term validation of overseas flight crew licences

1. A current PPL, CPL or ATPL issued by the licensing authority of an ICAO member state may be recognised for the issue of a NZ Validation Permit. A Validation Permit is not a pilot licence but a short term document, which facilitates the exercise of overseas flight crew licence privileges in NZ registered aircraft. An overseas pilot licence will only be considered for validation to an equivalent or lower level of NZ licence. All applicants are required to meet the ICAO English Language Proficiency (ELP) requirements. ELP to at least ICAO level 4 must be endorsed on each applicant’s overseas licence.

2. The successful completion of a NZ Biennial Flight Review is a pre-requisite to the issue of a validation permit for visiting pilots intending to engage in private flying activities under visual flight rules (VFR) in NZ. Application for a NZ PPL Validation Permit should be made using form CAA 24061/18.

3. Each Validation Permit will specify a maximum validity period of six months. However, this period will not extend beyond the expiry date of the applicants overseas licence or medical certificate under any circumstances.

4. If the privileges of an overseas licence presented for validation exceed those permitted by the NZ Civil Aviation Rules, the NZ rule requirements will take precedence. Each NZ Validation
Permit will clearly specify all privileges that have been granted and show any appropriate limitations.

5. Overseas type ratings held at the time of application for a NZ Validation Permit will be endorsed on the permit if required, provided that the type is listed in the NZ civil aircraft register. It is not possible to add any type rating to a NZ Validation Permit if the applicant does not already hold the applicable type rating overseas.

6. A NZ medical examination is not required for the issue of a NZ Validation Permit; applicants must produce appropriate and unexpired overseas medical certification.

7. Any person who has been denied the issue of a NZ pilot licence or medical certificate is not eligible for the issue of a NZ Validation Permit.

8. Validation permits granting commercial privileges will not be issued to overseas CPL or ATPL holders who intend undertaking commercial operations in NZ unless they produce a letter written by the principal of a certificated NZ aviation organization confirming their employment.

9. Overseas CPL holders seeking the initial issue of a NZ Validation Permit to undertake VFR operations in NZ airspace are generally required to pass a NZ CPL Air Law written examination.

10. Applicants who hold an overseas CPL and an instrument rating, who intend operating under IFR in NZ airspace, are generally required to pass both NZ CPL Air Law and NZ Instrument Rating Air Law written examinations.

11. Applicants who hold an overseas ATPL who wish to exercise the privileges of an ATPL in NZ airspace are generally required to pass an NZ ATPL Air Law written examination.

12. Persons who are required to hold a Validation Permit to conduct ferry flights from NZ to overseas destinations in NZ registered aircraft, or to undertake specific tasks such as flying at a NZ air show or to operate NZ registered aircraft on international operations between overseas countries are not generally required to pass a NZ air law examination.

13. Although a Validation Permit is not a renewable document, previous certificate holders may apply for a new certificate if the need arises. Where appropriate, provided that a period of not more than five years has elapsed since the applicant gained their NZ air law exam credit, a resit of this examination will not be required.

14. Applicants seeking a NZ validation permit are required to have flight experience that is at least equivalent to that prescribed for the appropriate level of NZ licence. That is, for a validation that grants PPL privileges, applicants must have the equivalent of all the NZ PPL minimum flight experience requirements, including dual instrument instruction, PPL weather and terrain awareness and so on. The same principles apply at CPL and ATPL level.

15. Prior to undertaking commercial flight crew duties in NZ, persons holding a NZ Validation Permit at CPL or ATPL level must complete all appropriate competency checks within the training and checking system of the company concerned.

16. Application for a NZ CPL or ATPL Validation Permit should be made using form CAA 24061/19.

17. Completed application paperwork for all validation permits should be submitted to:

Flight crew licence issue: general information

1. An unrestricted current flight crew licence issued by the licensing authority of an ICAO member state may be recognised and accepted as a basis for the issue of an equivalent or lower level NZ flight crew licence.

2. The term ‘current’ when used in relation to overseas qualifications, means that at the time of application for recognition, the holder of the licence must meet all the currency requirements laid down for the use of that document in the country of issue.

3. All persons who seek the issue of either a CPL or ATPL are required to have their overseas qualifications and experience assessed. These assessments are carried out on behalf of the CAA by Aviation Services Ltd (ASL), see contact details on page 2.

4. Applicants seeking a NZ flight crew licence, are required to meet all the minimum eligibility and flight experience requirements as laid down in Civil Aviation Rules Part 61, and the appropriate Advisory Circular for the type of NZ licence being sought.

5. In order to be eligible for the examination provisions available under this recognition process for a NZ CPL or ATPL, applicants are required to provide evidence of having completed prescribed levels of commercial experience. Commercial experience is flight experience that has been gained whilst exercising the privileges of their overseas CPL or ATPL. This experience must have been completed subsequent to the issue of the current overseas CPL or ATPL that has been presented for recognition. In addition, such experience must have been gained in countries that come under the jurisdiction of the overseas authority which issued this licence.

6. Details of the commercial experience requirements are contained in the parts of this information document, which relate to the specific CPL and ATPL recognition requirements.

7. All applicants holding an unrestricted current overseas CPL or ATPL who have been assessed as meeting the prescribed commercial experience will then be required to meet the requirements detailed on page 6 or 7 as appropriate.

8. All applicants for a NZ PPL are required to successfully complete a NZ Biennial Flight Review.

9. All applicants for a NZ CPL are required to successfully complete a NZ CPL issue flight test with an ASL flight examiner. Each applicant is required to gain a NZ CPL Air Law credit prior to undertaking their NZ CPL issue flight test.

10. All applicants for a NZ ATPL are required to successfully complete a NZ ATPL issue flight test with an appropriately approved NZ flight examiner. Each applicant is required to gain a NZ ATPL Air Law credit prior to undertaking their NZ ATPL issue flight test.

11. CAA does not recognise the UK Basic CPL-A or CPL(A)(R) for NZ CPL (A) equivalence purposes. Persons who hold this qualification are required to pass all the NZ CPL written examinations and successfully complete both a CPL cross country flight test and a CPL issue flight test.

12. CAA does not recognise overseas examination credits in isolation.

13. Prospective applicants should email: Info@caa.govt.nz in order to determine any specific requirements that may apply to them.

NOTE:

1. Persons who hold an overseas PPL, CPL or ATPL that is not fully current and/or cannot meet the levels of commercial experience prescribed for the issue of a NZ CPL or ATPL are not eligible to the provisions available for gaining these documents.
2. Such persons are required to meet all the eligibility requirements prescribed for the issue of a NZ PPL, CPL or ATPL as applicable. Among other things, this includes passing all the applicable NZ examinations and issue flight tests for a PPL, CPL or ATPL as appropriate.

3. All applicants are required to meet the ICAO English Language Proficiency (ELP) requirements.

This may achieved in one of two ways, either they must have ELP endorsed to at least ICAO level 4 on their overseas licence; or if such an endorsement is not held, they are required to complete ELP in NZ.

Private Pilot Licence (PPL) issue

Applicants seeking the issue of a New Zealand PPL using a current unrestricted equivalent or higher licence issued by the authority of an ICAO member state as a basis for recognition, should approach a NZ flight training organisation, and:

1. Produce their current overseas pilot licence, current medical certification and pilot log book to the Chief Flying Instructor for assessment,

2. Provided that all the prescribed minimum flight experience requirements for the issue of a NZ PPL as prescribed in AC61-3 are met;

Successfully complete a NZ Biennial Flight Review (BFR) to PPL standard with a current NZ Category A or B flight instructor, and then:

3. Apply to CAA for the issue of a PPL by submitting all of the following;
   - A completed application form CAA 24061/02 which includes credit card authorization for the licence issue fee as shown on the 02 form.
   - Completed form CAA 24FPP or CAA 24FPPDEC as appropriate, including their criminal and driving records from any country in which they have resided for a consecutive period of more than 6 months within the past 5 years.
   - A photocopy of the applicants completed BFR certified by a NZ Category A or B flight instructor, and.
   - A photocopy of the applicant's current overseas licence and medical certification, and
   - A photocopy of the applicant's flight experience assessment as completed by the NZ Category A or B flight instructor.

Notes for instructors and applicants

- The successful completion of a NZ BFR to PPL standard fulfils the examination and flight test requirements for the issue of a NZ PPL for current overseas licence holders. The flight phase of every BFR will be conducted in accordance with the PPL Flight Test Standards Guide published by CAA. In addition, each BFR must include a comprehensive briefing covering all appropriate aspects of VFR operations in NZ airspace.
The term ‘current’ means that at the time of presentation for recognition purposes, the holder of the overseas licence must meet all requirements laid down for the use of that document in the country of issue. This means that the licence holder must have an up to date Biennial Flight Review (BFR) or equivalent completed in the country of issue and also hold appropriate and unexpired overseas medical certification, issued in that country.

Applicants who do not meet the NZ PPL dual instrument instruction and/or PPL weather and terrain awareness requirements are not eligible for the issue of a NZ PPL until this time has been completed. Where applicable, this time may be completed in NZ.

Those who do not meet the NZ PPL night flight minimum times must have their logbooks endorsed to the effect that NZ PPL privileges may not be exercised at night.

Instructors must ensure that persons affected by any limitation fully understand its meaning.

Persons who cannot produce a current overseas licence, unexpired overseas medical certification and their pilot log book are not eligible for issue of a NZ PPL under the above provisions.

Persons who successfully complete this process may fly in NZ using their current overseas medical certification. However, the overseas medical may only be used until the expiry date shown on that medical certification at the time of entry into the NZ system, and after this date, a NZ Class 2 medical certificate must be gained.

Commercial Pilot Licence (CPL) issue

For the issue of a New Zealand CPL using an unrestricted current equivalent or higher licence issued by the Authority of an ICAO member state as a basis for recognition, each applicant will be required to:

1. Complete a qualification and experience assessment with ASL as detailed on pages 1 and 2 of this document. As part of this process, applicants will be required to:
   - produce evidence that they completed at least 250 hours experience as pilot in command on commercial operations subsequent to the issue of the flight crew licence that has been presented for recognition. Such experience must have been gained in countries which come under the jurisdiction of the overseas authority that issued the licence, and;
   - show that they have completed all the minimum flight experience requirements prescribed for the issue of an NZ CPL as prescribed in AC61-5

2. When ASL has confirmed that the applicant is eligible for the NZ recognition provisions, applicants will be required to:
   - Complete the issue of a NZ Class 1 Medical Certificate, and;
   - Pass a NZ CPL Air Law written examination, and;
   - Pass the appropriate CPL issue flight test with an ASL examiner, and then;

3. Apply to CAA for the issue of a CPL by submitting all of the following:
   - A completed application form CAA 24061/02 which includes credit card authorisation for the licence issue fee as shown on the 02 form.
- Completed form CAA 24FPP or CAA 24FPPDEC as appropriate, including their criminal and driving records from any country in which they have resided for a consecutive period of more than 6 months within the past 5 years.
- Photocopies of all completed flight test paperwork including the flight experience assessment
- A photocopy of the applicant’s current overseas licence and medical certification.
- Photocopies of the applicants NZ CPL Air Law examination pass slip (including a completed Knowledge Deficiency Report) and NZ Class 1 Medical Certificate.
- A photocopy of the letter issued by Aviation Services Ltd following completion of the qualification and experience assessment.

Airline Transport Pilot Licence (ATPL) issue

For the issue of a NZ ATPL using an unrestricted current equivalent licence and instrument rating issued by the Authority of an ICAO member state as a basis for recognition, each applicant will be required to;

1. Complete a qualification and experience assessment with ASL as detailed on pages 1 and 2 of this document. As part of this process, applicants will be required to:
   - Produce evidence of having completed at least 500 hours as pilot in command or 1000 hours as co-pilot on multi-crew operations, in multi-engine aircraft, on commercial IFR operations subsequent to the issue of the flight crew licence that has been presented for recognition. Such experience is to have been gained in countries which come under the jurisdiction of the overseas authority that issued the licence, and;
   - show that they have completed all the minimum flight experience requirements prescribed for the issue of an NZ ATPL as prescribed in AC61-7.

2. When ASL has confirmed that the applicant is eligible for the NZ recognition provisions, applicants will be required to:
   - Complete the issue of a NZ Class 1 Medical Certificate, and
   - Pass a NZ ATPL Air Law written examination, and
   - Pass an ATPL issue flight test with a Civil Aviation Authority or an approved airline flight examiner, then;

3. Apply to CAA for the issue of an ATPL by submitting all of the following;
   - A completed application form CAA 24061/02 which includes credit card authorisation for the licence issue fee as shown on the 02 form, and
   - completed form CAA 24FPP or CAA 24FPPDEC as appropriate, including their criminal and driving records from any country in which they have resided for a consecutive period of more than 6 months within the past 5 years.
   - Photocopies of all completed flight test paperwork including the flight experience assessment.
   - Photocopies of the applicant’s current overseas licence and medical certificate.
- Photocopies of the applicant’s NZ ATPL Air Law examination pass slip (including a completed Knowledge Deficiency Report) and NZ Class 1 Medical Certificate.

Notes:
- Applicants for an ATPL who elect to undertake the issue flight test with a CAA flight examiner should apply to CAA on form CAA 24061/03 together with the applicable application fee shown on the 03 form. If undertaking an ATPL issue flight test within a New Zealand airline training system, application to CAA is not required.
- Each ATPL (Aeroplane) issued will include a NZ Instrument Rating.
- Persons wishing to undertake ATPL (Aeroplane) issue tests in approved airline simulators should note that the only approved devices in New Zealand are owned by the Air New Zealand Group.
- Please note that except where specifically provided for, P1 under supervision, command practice, ICUS or similar time is not acceptable in lieu of the minimum flight experience requirements laid down in AC61-1.7 for the ATPL (A).
- ATPL issue flight tests must be undertaken in multi-engine aircraft types acceptable to the Director, or in approved airline flight simulators.

Instrument Rating (I/R) issue (not applicable to ATPL holders)
For the issue of a New Zealand Instrument Rating using an unrestricted equivalent command level instrument rating issued by the Authority of an ICAO member state as a basis for recognition, each applicant will be required to:

1. Have been issued with a NZ CPL (A), and;
2. Meet all the minimum flight experience requirements for the issue of a NZ I/R as prescribed in AC61-17, and;
3. Pass a NZ I/R Air Law written examination, and;
4. Pass an NZ I/R issue flight test with an ASL flight examiner, then;
5. Apply to CAA for the issue of an Instrument Rating by submitting all of the following:
   - A completed application form CAA 24061/01 which includes credit card authorisation for the licence issue fee as shown on the 02 form, and
   - form CAA 24FPP or CAA 24FPPDEC as appropriate, including their criminal and driving records from any country in which they have resided for a consecutive period of more than 6 months within the past 5 years.
   - Photocopies of all completed flight test paperwork including the flight experience assessment.
   - A photocopy of the NZ I/R Air Law examination pass slip (including a completed Knowledge Deficiency Report).
   - NZ flight crew licence (the actual NZ licence, not a copy).
Note: In addition to meeting all the above requirements, applicants holding an overseas I/R and a NZ Private Pilot Licence, are required to pass CPL Meteorology and CPL Human Factors examinations and be assessed as fit to the NZ Class 1 medical standard in hearing. Copies of the additional examination pass slips including KDR’s and a NZ Class 2 medical certificate annotated for Class 1 hearing must accompany the items listed above where appropriate.

Flight Instructor Rating issue
For the issue of a New Zealand Category A, B, or C Flight Instructor Rating using an unrestricted equivalent category, grade or class of flight instructor rating issued by the Authority of an ICAO member state, each applicant will be required to;

1. Have been issued with either an NZ CPL or ATPL, and;
2. Meet all the minimum flight and training experience requirements for issue of the appropriate category of NZ Flight Instructor Rating as prescribed in AC61-18, and;
3. Pass the appropriate instructor rating issue flight test with an ASL flight examiner, then;
4. Apply to CAA for the issue of an Instructor Rating by submitting all of the following:
   - A completed application form CAA 24061/01 which includes credit card authorisation for the licence issue fee as shown on the 02 form, and
   - form CAA 24FPP or CAA 24FPPDEC as appropriate, including their criminal and driving records from any country in which they have resided for a consecutive period of more than 6 months within the past 5 years.
   - Photocopies of all completed flight test paperwork including the flight experience assessment.
   - NZ flight crew licence (the actual NZ licence, not a photocopy).

Notes for NZ Category C applicants
Following the issue of a NZ Category C flight instructor rating:

1. Persons who have held the overseas equivalent of a NZ Category C Flight Instructor Rating, must operate under the direct supervision of a current NZ Category A or B flight instructor for at least the first six months and for at least the first 100 hours of flight instruction in NZ.

2. persons who have completed the requirement in 1 above, must then operate in accordance with Civil Aviation Rule 61.305 which requires the holders of Category C Flight Instructor Ratings to be supervised by a current NZ Category A or B flight instructor.

Recognition of aircraft type ratings
Details regarding the recognition of aircraft type ratings that have been gained overseas are published in Advisory Circular AC61-1.10.

This may be accessed on the CAA website. “Quick Links/ Advisory Circulars / AC61-10.” Look on page 5 under the heading “Foreign Type Ratings.”
NOTE: CAA will neither recognize nor issue overseas type ratings for aircraft types that do not appear on the NZ civil register.

Recognition of agricultural and chemical ratings

For the issue of either a New Zealand Grade 1 or Grade 2 Agricultural Rating using an unrestricted equivalent rating issued by the Authority of an ICAO member state, each applicant will be required to:

1. Have been issued with either a NZ CPL or ATPL, and;
2. For Grade 2, meet all the eligibility requirements contained in CA Rule 61.701(a), or
3. For Grade 1, meet all the eligibility requirement laid down in CA Rule 61.701(b) and;
4. Undertake a competency flight test in an agricultural aircraft with the holder of a current NZ Category E Flight Instructor Rating.

Notes:
- In order to facilitate the completion of a pre-training/test assessment of overseas agricultural qualifications and flight experience; pilot logbooks, course certificates and any other relevant information should be made available to the agricultural training organisation concerned. Should it be necessary, CAA will provide appropriate advice if so requested.
- Following satisfactory completion of the flight test, the Category E instructor concerned is required to enter a certification of competence in the applicant’s pilot logbook. Such certification must state whether Grade 1 or Grade 2 Agricultural Rating privileges may be exercised.
- In cases where a NZ Chemical Rating is not held, a logbook endorsement must be made by the instructor, stating that the pilot concerned may not dispense any agricultural chemical.
- Chemical Ratings or equivalent qualifications issued overseas are not recognised towards the issue of a NZ Chemical Rating.
- Persons who wish to qualify for a NZ Chemical Rating must meet the eligibility requirements laid down in CA Rule Part 61 and AC61-16.
